

Arizona's Accountability Systems: 2005 NCLB and AZ LEARNS Quiz

Arizona Department of Education
Research and Evaluation Section

1. What are the three components of an Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) calculation?
2. Which types of schools will not be evaluated for AYP this year?
 - a. Alternative schools.
 - b. Small schools.
 - c. New schools.
 - d. None of the above
3. What subgroups are evaluated for AYP?
4. For AYP 2005, an N-count of 60 will be used only:
 - a. For large schools
 - b. For entire grades, but not for subgroups
 - c. For districts, but not for schools
 - d. If the feds approve
5. What are Annual Measurable Objectives (AMO's)?
6. AMO's for the ELL and special education subgroups are 10 percentage points less than for the entire grade. TRUE FALSE
(Circle One)

7. Who are the only students automatically taken out of the AMO calculation?
- ELL students who have been in the program for three years or less
 - Students who did not start the year at the school.
 - Students who have taken the test with non-standard modifications
 - Students who have taken AIMS-A

8. What are the consequences for not making AYP for Title I schools.

9. Name three differences between NCLB and AZ LEARNS?

1.

2.

3.

10. What data elements are included in the Achievement Profiles for elementary and high schools?
(Match the models to the elements)

Elementary School (only)

Graduation Rate

Progress

Measure of Academic

High School (only)

Dropout Rate

Both

AYP

(Elementary and High School)

AIMS

11. How is AYP included in the Achievement Profile calculation?
12. What is the N Count for the Achievement Profile calculation?
- a. 30
 - b. 16
 - c. 100
 - d. None of the above
13. How does my school become highly performing or excelling?
- a. Recruiting highly performing students
 - b. Meeting both scale score and percent exceeds criteria
 - c. Having content rich curriculum
 - d. Testing 95% of students and hiring highly qualified teachers
14. Who are the only students automatically taken out of the AZ LEARNS profile calculation?
(You may choose more than one answer.)
- a. ELL students who have been in the program for three years or less
 - b. Students who did not start the year at the school.
 - c. Students who have taken the test with non-standard modifications
 - d. Students who have taken AIMS-A
15. Which types of schools will not be evaluated for AZ LEARNS this year?
- a. Alternative schools.
 - b. Small schools.
 - c. New schools.
 - d. None of the above